 O See You That Isle. O see you that Isle! in the ocean uplifted,
 Where green grows the shamrock and roses blush red, Whose daughters are fair and whose sons rarely gifted, Where glory stands guard o'er the patriot dead. O see you that Isle! with its verdure-clad mountains, Bathed in the light of the evening's rich glow; O see you the flash of its silver-hued fountains, As they leap from the hills to the valleys below. O see you the waves of the broad Shannon rolling Along to the sea-beach by lone Mullaghmore, Or hear you the sound of the vesper bell tolling From the old church at home in loved Curraghadore. O see you that Isle! where silently rest Brave Emmet and Orr and the gallant Shawn Roe, Who reaped but a grave on its emerald breast, And died for their country defying the foe. O see you that Isle! tis the home of my childhood, Where happy I roamed through the long summer day, Bird-nesting at will...
